Healthcare Facilities:

Centrally located between Denver and Salt Lake City, Grand Junction is rapidly becoming the destination of choice for medical treatment for people on Colorado's Western slope, and in Eastern Utah. Although Grand Valley Engineering Solutions wasn't selected as the electrical engineer for their $200,000,000 'Century Project' at St. Mary's Hospital, I have been the electrical engineer on nearly 100 remodel and tenant finish projects there. I have also been involved in numerous projects at Community Hospital and the VA Medical Center over the past 30 years starting with Community Hospital's two story administrative wing in the 1980s. My most recent large healthcare project, Primary Care Partners, is a 78,000 square foot medical office building completed in 2003.

In addition to healthcare facilities in Grand Junction, I have been the electrical engineer on medical building projects in Fruita, Rifle, Rangely, Glenwood Springs, Delta, Montrose, and eastern Utah. The following is a partial list of healthcare projects on which I have been involved.
